

GardenPromos

This website was in Shopify and the client needed to change the platform to Magento, so we provided them seamless migration and now the website is in Magneto 2.3.2.

A wooden garden bench with a roof, situated on a lawn in a garden setting. The bench is made of light-colored wood and has a slatted backrest. The roof is supported by four posts and has a decorative finial on top. The background shows a wooden fence, trees, and a concrete path.

Garden promos company is providing high-quality garden sheds, garden furniture, and other garden supplies. They are perfect for garden enthusiasts. They are well versed in creating the perfect space in your garden.

Planning

All the solutions were first identified and then high-level implementation planning was done. The planning was done for complete Data Assessment & to provide the Responsive migration Upgrade.

Strategy

To provide the latest functionalities of Magento so that the transfer of platform turns out to be fruitful. We planned to accelerate the brand's revenue with Magento. Store Setup from start to end was planned out for effective comprehensive transfer.
